

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute; so be sure to get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

Librarian is Appointed.

The supreme court has announced the appointment of Judge E. G. Spillman as state librarian, succeeding J. W. Blanton, who resigned on account of ill health. Judge Spillman served as assistant attorney general under Attorney General West.

Bad Cold Quickly Broken Up.

Mrs. Martha Wilcox, Gowanda, N. Y. writes: "I first used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy about eight years ago. At that time I had a hard cold and coughed most of the time. It proved to be just what I needed. It broke up the cold in a few days, and the cough entirely disappeared. I have told many of my friends of the good I received through using this medicine, and all who have used it speak of it in the highest terms." Obtainable everywhere.

TESTIMONY, HE SAYS WILL COST HIM HIS JOB

I'LL BE FIRED: NEVER GET ANOTHER PLACE, SAYS TELEGRAPHER

Chicago, April 17.—Five Postal Telegraph Company telegraphers, suddenly subpoenaed to appear before the United States Commission on Industrial Relations yesterday, unanimously contradicted yesterday's testimony of Edward G. Reynolds, general manager of the company, who said that conditions of employment were 75 per cent satisfactory. Mr. Reynolds remarked that the commission should confirm his statement by asking the men.

The five witnesses said that none of the operators were satisfied. In the main, because they thought they did too much work for too little money; they knew of no way to obtain redress of grievances, and there were minor troubles. D. F. Rogers, working a "regular extra split trick" for the Postal company, was the last witness. As he was being excused he was asked by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission, if he had any further complaint to make.

"Only that I won't have any job tomorrow," he said. Mr. Walsh replied: "If you or any other of the young men get into difficulty because of your testimony during the life of this commission, please notify Secretary Brown."

"It's ten to one that you will hear from me," Rogers insisted. "Oh, let us hope not," smiled the chairman. "I'll be fired and I never will get another job," the witness concluded.

MRS. REXROAD'S WORK DRAWS COMPLIMENTS

A new field for women has been opened by the great success that has attended the work of Mrs. E. S. Rexroad, who has become a recognized expert in landscape gardening throughout the state. The Oklahoma City Times says: Mrs. Rexroad's home is in Guthrie, but much of her time lately has been spent in this city where her services have been secured in the planning and the landscaping of the grounds surrounding several beautiful homes.

She has been deeply interested in the work for several years and her own gardens and yard has been one of the show places in Guthrie for several years. Especially will Mrs. Rexroad be remembered as the exhibitor of the immense Shasta daisies at the flower show here for the last two years. Among the places in this city which Mrs. Rexroad has in charge are those of Dr. Edward F. Davis and Dr. Edmund S. Ferguson, both among the many beautiful homes on Fifteenth street. Work at the former is almost finished but in all cases the plans are not only for the present but are based upon a finished plan which may take a year or more to complete. Mrs. Rexroad is most enthusiastic in her work and combines a knowledge of soil conditions and plants indigenous to Oklahoma, with an eye for the artistic and beautiful, both as to gardens, trees, shrubbery, architecture and vistas. Besides the work here she has been chosen to superintend the landscaping of the grounds of the Edmond State Normal, four acres in extent, and has the contract for forty acres near Ripley in Payne county, and a country home of one hundred and sixty acres in Comanche county near Lawton, which is being planned by a retired capitalist. She also has many private grounds in Guthrie in her charge.

HELPFUL HEN, 27 YEARS OLD, IS STILL ACTIVE

HAS RECORD OF 3,888 EGGS AND IS STILL LAYING AROUND

Killingly, Conn., April 17.—"Eusapia Palladino," the oldest hen in the town of Killingly and perhaps in the entire world, is to have a birthday party on the occasion of her twenty-seventh birthday, which falls on June 2. All the old hens in Killingly are looking forward to the event and it is probable that a few young chickens will be asked, just to give the party a metropolitan flavor. "Eusapia," though of Spanish origin lays her eggs in English and began work when but five months old. Her first egg, which her owner, Mr. James Blanchard still has, was laid in November, 1888, and since then she has laid an average of 44 eggs a year, story is being written and only the greatest haste can prevent her laying another before it is completed.

She just lays around all day, as might be expected at her great age, which lays square eggs with a monogram. Eusapia lays but one egg at a time. Eusapia. It will readily be reckoned was hatched from a black Spanish egg ten years before the Spanish-American war when shells burst frequently. She has seen a very active life and greatly deprecates the dissipation, irregular hours and loss of sleep incident to the poultry shows which have become popular of late years. She does not smoke, has never on any occasion partaken of alcoholic liquors and can now read without glasses as if she cared to.

WOMEN SERVE ON ELECTION BOARD.

Chicago, Ill., April 17.—Women will be permitted to serve as judges and clerks of elections in Chicago, according to a ruling yesterday by County Judge Thomas F. Scully, reversing his former decision. "Women have elevated the polling places," Judge Scully said. "The old days of smoke filled polling places disappeared as soon as women were allowed to serve. Their presence also has prevented political squabbles."

Constipation and Indigestion.
"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and must say they are the best I have ever used for constipation and indigestion. My wife also used them for indigestion and they did her good," writes Eugene S. Knight, Wilmington, N. C. Obtainable everywhere.

Sanford Quest, master criminologist of the world, finds that in bringing to justice the murderer of Lord Ashleigh's daughter, he has but just entered a life-and-death contest with a mysterious master criminal. Engaged by Professor Ashleigh, Lord Ashleigh's brother, to recover the stolen skeleton of an anthropoid ape, hurried to Mrs. Reinhold's reception, where her diamonds have been torn from her throat by a pair of hands without arms or body, a black box later appears from nowhere in his room and a note contained in it, signed by the armless hands, sarcastically suggests that the Reinhold diamonds and the skeleton may be hidden together. While Laura, Quest's secretary, shadows Craig, the professor's valet, Quest and Lenora, his assistant, find the skeleton in a hut in the professor's garden, and discover there an enormous creature, half monkey and half man. As the professor explains, the hut is set after and the monkey-man and skeleton are destroyed in the flames. In Quest's rooms the Reinhold diamonds suddenly reappear, enclosed in a second black box with a note signed by the threatening hands.

Sanford Quest was smoking his after-breakfast cigar with a relish somewhat affected by the measure of his perplexities. Early though it was, Lenora was already in her place, bending over her desk, and Laura, who had just arrived, was busy divesting herself of her coat and hat. Quest watched the latter impatiently.

"Well?" he asked. Laura came forward, straightening her hair with her hands.

"No go," she answered. "I spent the evening in the club, and I talked with two men who knew Craig, but I couldn't get on to anything. From all I could hear of the man, respectability is his middle name."

"That's the professor's own idea," Quest remarked grimly.

"We're fairly up against it, boss," Laura sighed. "The best
